Impact

As one of the first and currently largest fintech companies in Colombia, Sempli is pioneering innovative financial solutions for SMEs which are expected to set the example and have a demonstration effect both in its own market and beyond.

Thanks to an agile and fast online application process unmatched by other financial institutions, Sempli is expected to finance a large number of underserved SMEs. Many of the SMEs reached are active in the knowledge economy and as such are often managed and staffed by a younger workforce who typically struggle to access finance.
