Supporting young entrepreneurs in Francophone West Africa through Dakar Network Angels

DGGF's Seed Capital and Business Development (SC&BD) facility now supports Dakar Network Angels (DNA) to improve access to finance and business support for young entrepreneurs in Francophone Africa. While innovative high-growth potential ventures are numerous, early stage financing in the region has fallen below the African average which is detrimental for economic development. The DNA members are dedicated to fill this gap with angel investing: contributing their capital, expertise and network to high-potential start-ups in the region. The most promising enterprises will be assisted by the DNA to attract later stage investors.

With the support provided by the SC&BD facility, DNA can efficiently staff and structure the network and effectively close angel investment deals. SC&BD provides technical assistance to help the DNA improve the quality of its interventions and the sustainability of its operations, and in doing so improve access to finance and business support for young entrepreneurs in Francophone Africa.
