The Dutch Good Growth Fund (DGGF) supports Dutch entrepreneurs doing business in emerging markets and developing countries. DGGF links aid and trade by granting loans and guarantees. The fund focuses on social responsibility and positive impact. We measure this impact every year. This infographic shows the impact achieved by 2020. It is based on several indicators, such as employment, sustainability and gender equality.

“It’s a dream come true. Especially because we’ve now given nearly 45 people jobs in a safe, protected environment in Bangladesh. Over half of them are women. We can adjust this number at any time based on demand. Without the Netherlands Enterprise Agency, I would not have taken this step.”
