Energy Generation TOGO

Supporting incubation expansion for young African aspiring entrepreneurs

DGGF's Seed Capital and Business Development (SC&BD) facility supports Energy Generation, a pan-African entrepreneur support organization (ESO) based in Togo, in generating more scalable businesses that provide access to products and services to poor populations and create jobs, while preserving the environment.

Many ESO-supported enterprise endeavours on the African continent lack execution capacity, which only widens the early-stage finance gap. It takes time and resources to structure an entrepreneurial endeavour while mastering the main business management skills. This calls for a hybrid model that meets the entrepreneurs where they are and accompanies and equips them along the early-stage spectrum of enterprise development.

With the support provided by the SC&BD facility, Energy Generation can effectively solidify and expand their outreach to young African aspiring entrepreneurs to create and develop high-growth and dynamic businesses while scaling their impact.
