Strengthening climate investments with technical assistance

ALIVE Ventures is an investment firm focused on supporting early-growth, mission-driven SMEs in Latin America. DGGF has supported ALIVE since 2018, first through the Acumen Latin America Early Growth Fund (ALEG I), and now through ALEG II. ALEG I is committed to foster gender equity by applying a gender lens to its investment portfolio, while ALEG II focuses more on climate investments. In both funds, ALIVE emphasizes the importance of impact measurement, to which end they conduct regular in-depth studies on portfolio companies and combine them with customer feedback.

To bolster its climate strategy, ALIVE is establishing a Technical Assistance Facility (TAF) for its ALEG II fund. The TAF's primary role will be to engage external advisors who will provide ALIVE's portfolio companies with crucial post-investment support services. Next to its investments, DGGF will deliver business development support and assistance to facilitate the setup of the TAF.

Investment

DGGF commits a loan of USD 675.000 for business development support and USD 50.000 for technical assistance
