Supporting tech-enabled start-ups in Bangladesh

SBK Emerge Fund is among the first institutional venture capital funds to be established to in Bangladesh. The fund is a sector agnostic venture capital fund, which will invest primarily in early-stage technology enabled companies with the aim of achieving long term capital appreciation and sustainable development in Bangladesh and, opportunistically, in South Asian countries such as Sri Lanka and Nepal.

SBK Emerge Fund's investments will provide post-incubation and risk-inclined capital to early-stage tech-enabled companies in Bangladesh. In targeting this segment, the fund is expected to invest in start-ups delivering products and services specifically benefiting a young digitally native population. SBK Emerge Fund is a women-led initiative which is active in comprehensively supporting women beneficiaries by adopting a gender lens investing approach addressing the gap throughout the investment cycle and for women entrepreneurs.
